Search

The search engine

The Interencheres search engine enables you to find a name, object or characteristic in all the auction sale announcements published on the site by selecting or cross-referencing up to four different criteria:

- › A sales speciality;
- › An auction venue;
- › A range of prices;
- › A specific search period

NEW! More powerful and effective, the search engine now enables:

- › A search using your key words in not only sale announcements and lot descriptions but also the sale lists in PDF format accompanying announcements;
- › A search for key words of less than three letters (e.g. BMW, art, Op (as in art), etc.);
- › Refined searches using quotation marks and the "-" minus sign to exclude certain terms (e.g. Picasso -car);
- › The correction of typing errors and searches broadened to similar lexical fields. For example, a search with the key word "goose" will produce objects whose descriptions contain not only the word "goose" but also "geese".

Sales in your region

NEW! In one click, you can find upcoming auctions near you.

Interencheres now uses Google Maps, the universal reference location service. You can now search a map of France.

This location service enables you to:

- Search all the sales in one particular region. After indicating the desired location in the search engine, you will find all upcoming sales within a radius of 10 to 100 kilometers.
- Find the nearest sale room: when you enter the name of a town or village or a post code on the map, all the offices within a radius of 10 to 100 kilometers will appear.
- Find the itinerary on Google Maps: for each sale and office, you can click on the "Find itinerary on Google Maps" button, which will bring up a detailed map for the auction venue.

FIND SALES

The auction house directory

Are you looking for the exact address of an auction house? Do you want to know which auctioneers officiate near you? In the "auctioneers" menu, you can find a map locating auction houses throughout France, together with a directory of the offices.

Each one has a detailed presentation page showing:

- Their full contact details and a detailed presentation of their activity. You can then contact the auction house for further information about a lot, and send it absentee bids.
- Their most recent sale results;
- Their upcoming free appraisal dates and the possibility of e-mailing an estimate request for an object;
- Their conditions of sale.

Get an estimate for an item

How much might that chest-of-drawers doing nothing in your attic be worth? And that picture hanging above the mantelpiece - has the rating of its artist risen? Not to mention your car, which you'd rather like to change...

If you want to find out the value of one or more objects you own, nothing could be better than advice from an experienced professional. The auctioneer is on hand to provide a free, totally confidential estimate for furniture, objects and any other type of movable asset (which can be transported, as opposed to immovable property).

To get an estimate for your items, you can also attend one of the free appraisal and estimate days that are staged regularly all over France. Your auctioneers' next free appraisal days are shown on the presentation page of their office.

Zoom and multi-photos

NEW! So that you miss none of the details of the lots that interest you - a signature, the reverse side of a painting, a car engine, the specification sheet of a tool machine, etc., Interencheres enables you to explore the object from every angle, thanks to the various photos provided with each lot. The quality of the photos published has also been improved: you can now enlarge the photo to full screen, up to 200%.

Bidding

Absentee bids

If you are not free on the day of the sale, or do not live close to the sale room, you can still take part in the auction by leaving an absentee bid with the auctioneer. Absentee bids can be registered for every lot published on Interencheres.

The auctioneer will then act on your behalf, according to your instructions, by endeavouring to buy the lot you want at the lowest possible price without exceeding the maximum amount you have indicated.

When registering an absentee bid, you have to give your bidding limit and personal contact details to the auctioneer. Interencheres then e-mails your bid to the auctioneer and sends you a copy of your application.

Interencheres Live auctions

Are you interested in a sale but unable to be there on the day itself? Interencheres offers you the chance to follow certain sales and bid live on the Internet. Easy to access and use, its platform enables you to follow the bidding as it goes along through an audio and video broadcast of the sale, and be able to bid with a simple click!

You can find the schedule of the next Live sales in the "Live Sales" menu shown in each field (furniture and objets d'art, vehicles and professional equipment).

Before the sale, you have the option of registering a secret absentee bid. Even the auctioneer does not know how much it is for; only the Live Sale software knows the maximum amount you have set. When the lot comes up for sale, the machine acts in the interest of the bidder, gradually raising the amount of the bids up to the price indicated in the secret bid. If there are no higher bids, you can win the lot at a price lower than the maximum amount indicated in your absentee bid.
